LANCASTER COUNTY AND THE CITY OF LINCOLN'S JOINT EFFORTS PUTS CODE AND REGULATION ACCESS WITHIN CITIZEN'S REACH

The staff at Lincoln-Lancaster County began a search in late 2017 to find a solution to keeping their regulatory documents up-to-date. Solutions at the time would have them waiting three to six months for ordinance updates to reach their publicly accessible copies. Partnering with enCodePlus proved groundbreaking for the second most populous county in the great state of Nebraska. The citizens of Lincoln-Lancaster County, now have six online and fully accessible documents including:

- Lincoln City Charter
- Lincoln Municipal Code
- Design Standards
- Access Management Polity
- Lancaster County Zoning Regulations
- Lancaster County Subdivision Regulations

Now, many years later, the City and County still rely on enCodePlus to display, update, codify, and archive their most important ordinance changes.

enCodePlus automates archiving as part of the standardized amendment-publishing workflow. It applies a date stamp for each adopted ordinance or by-law and generates a running record of amendment history.
